FURTHER PARTICULARS

Further particulars of the accidental ooting of Miss Ettle Phillips, of Pitts burgh, a popular lady student of Beth any College, which occurred last Friday sternoon and resulted in her death Sunday morning, are as follows: Miss Phillips and Miss Laura Campbell, in company with two of the gentlemen students, were out on the campus shooting at a target with revolvers. They had for a target a very hard poplar board set up about twelve feet from where they were standing. Miss Phillips was standing to the right of the others and a little behind them. Just as the last shot was fired, Miss Phillips remarked that the ball had bounced back and hither, but that it didn't but ther. None of the rest of the party knew at the itine that the ball had entered her flesh or even gone through her clothing.

Shesat down on a log for a few minutes, and then the party returned to the ladies' quarters on Pendleton Heights, where the gentlemen left the ladies. It was not until two physicians, Drs. Shriver and Cox, were summoned, that it was reported that Miss Phillips was shot, but it was stated that it was only a slight flesh wound and not dangerous. No one seemed to be impressed with the thought that it might prove fatal. The physicians probed for the ball but were unable to locate it. Miss Phillips was however, kept quiet in bed, and on Saturday another unsuccessful attempt was made to find the ball, yet it was reported not dangerous. Sunday morning she died.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, ac-cumulating in the glands of the neck, pro-duces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness o deafness; which is the origin of pimples, can cerous growths, or the many other manifesta-tions usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

last evening in the music hall of St Joseph's Academy in honor of and com plimentary to the Rt. Rev. Bishop Kain, previous to his departure for Rome and the Holy Land, for which he will se sail from New-York a week from to-day. In connection with the entertainment there were two addresses presented to Bishop Kain. Of the entertainment it can be said

Of the entertainment it can be said that the musical development was well represented by those who took part. Misses Kate Cameron, Lavinia Carroll and Della McFadden deserve special commendation as instrumental performers. The principal vocalists were Misses Susio Reister, Maggie Howard and Katle Scistur; the voice of the last named young lady promises to be a superior contralto. In recitation, little Annie Jesson and Mary Fastnacht won colden contraito. In recitation, little Annie Jepson and Mary Fastnacht won golden opinions and were warmly applauded. Miss Mamie Owens rendered a touching little poem with taste and feeling. Miss Kate Jorden delivered the presentation address in a very clever manner. James Carroll also made avecentation address Carroll also made a presentation address in behalf of the pupils of St. Vincent's High School. The exercises terminated with au affecting and impressive address by the Rt. Rev. Bishop which will not soon be forgotten. In conclusion, he soon be forgotten. I gave his blessing to all.

NESBITT & BRO..

A TERRIBLE DEATH

ment manages from Connected with the Deed — Sensational Developments Expected.

Comparatively speaking, no city in the Union can boast of a cleaner criminal record than Wheeling, but the atrocious and brutal details of the tragedy enacted on Market street last night far outstrips any recorded in the criminal calendars of any other city, and is only equalled in shocking and inhuman butchery by the White Chapel murders. The place selected by the murderous fiends for their terrible crime was the lot adjoining the Wheeling Instalment Company's new stores on Market street, and back of the building now in the course of construction there. From what can be learned at present, the murder must have been committed before 11 o'clock. Some say it was done before the Wheeling Instalment Company had, closed its doors for the night. Upon inquiries at their stores we were informed that the firm did not close till 11:30 on Saturdays. How a murder could be committed on such a prominent thoroughfare while the streets were alive with people without attracting public attention is indeed a mystery. From the terrible mutilated appearance of the murdered man's head, it is supposed he was sand-bagged and his body literally carved. The body lay parallel-with the Wheeling Instalment Company's store and a little east of it. The victim, apparently a very respectable man, was dressed rather stylish and wore a silk hat with the initials "H. P." worked in the lining.

APPEARANCE OF THE BODY. The forehead was hammered in, the eyes gouged from their sockets, the throat cut from ear to ear, the left arm was cut clean from the shoulder and the right dreadfully backed. The stomach was ripped open, leaving the bowels protrading. The sight was ghastly in the extreme and very revolting.

THE VICTIM'S CABEER.

The face, from the dreadful mutilations, could not be recognized, but is believed by the majority of people who saw the body, to have been a resident of the city for many years and moved among the best society. His presence in every household was quickly acquiesed in, though it was well known by these people that he was a fugitive from justice. He took part in all social affairs of note and was greatly admired by the fair sex. His company was courted by well known professional gentlemen. Merchants, and even clergy, were known to be his boon companions. That he has made many victims among these people goes without saying. That he has actually robbed many of them they now realize and they all unanimously pronounce him a scoundrel of the lowest type. In order to escape a dreadful expose which a prominent firm threatened to make, the victim left the city last september and returned yesterlar, presuming everything had blown over. THE VICTIM'S CAREER.

uming everything had blown over THE BODY IDENTIFIED. The initials "H. P." in the hat were also worked on all his undergarments.

These facts, with the identification of the body by very reliable citizens, victims of the murdered man, establish beyond a doubt his personality. As we said before, he lived among us for many years and was known by the name of "High Prices."

THE ACCUSED.

THE ACCUSED.

It has been established beyond a doubt that the gentlemen connected with the Wheeling Instalment Company are guilty of the crime. In an interview with the leading member of the firm, he admitted the guilt of his firm and stated that his firm had determined by selling Furniture, Carpets, Stoyes, Crockery, Lamps, Clocks, etc., at lower prices than any other house and on easy payments to not only kill High Prices but misrepresented values. We strongly recommend those in need of household goods to visit the Wheeling Instalment Company, 1138 Market street, the foce of pany, 1138 Market street, the fees of High Prices and Misrepresented Values.
